REAL ESTATE AGENT KNOWLEDGE TEST

13 Essential questions every agent should know about a neighborhood or be able to help you find the right answer

Did you know that real estate professionals must follow strict rules about Fair Housing laws concerning discrimination based on age, race, sex, marriage status, family status, etc.? It's true. For example, any real estate professional cannot answer questions about a neighborhood's percentage of families with children of a certain age, but that doesn't mean a buyer can't find that information for themselves. In fact, there are many sources for statistics on the demographics of a neighborhood.

A Certified Neighborhood Specialist (CNS) has the tools, resources and training to answer almost any question about a neighborhood. If not, then a Certified Neighborhood Specialist can point you in the right direction to uncover any specific information that you want to know.

Below are 13 questions to ask an agent before you sign any agreement. Keep in mind, if they don't know the answer then you might want to find a Certified Neighborhood Specialist who will.
